Design Contest celebrating Today's Woman Magazine's 18th Year

Louisville, KY – June 2009 – To celebrate their 18th year, Today's Woman magazine is holding a design contest. They are putting out a call for artistic designs. The designs must feature or represent the theme of "18". They are especially looking for items that are visual, and could possibly be worn, such as jewelry, hats, clothing, purse, accessories. They are also looking for visual art, such as paintings, drawings, etc. All designs will be considered.

Along with a photo or scanned drawing of the intended final design of the item, all submissions must include a name of artist, address, phone number, email, size, weight, name of the piece, and material used. These submissions should be mailed to 18entries@todayspublications.com or mailed to Today's Woman, 9750 Ormsby Station Road, Suite 307, Louisville, KY 40223 no later than September 10, 2009. After judging, finalists will need to complete entries/final products by October 5, 2009.

The winning piece and several finalist pieces will be featured as part of a photo shoot in the December 2009 issue of Today's Woman magazine. Along with the recognition, prizes worth more than $1,800 will be awarded to the winner and finalists. All entries will be acknowledged on the Today's Woman magazine website or in the magazine.

All finalist pieces will be auctioned off at an event benefiting Family Scholar House.
